From Ceil:

"Yes, that sounds right. By 1910 Sally and Ella were already out on their own. I have a lot of pictures of Elva, and she and Charles were Aaron's children from a previous marriage. Aaron's last name was Hendricks, at least that's the way it's spelled on the envelopes that I have from letters Sallie sent to her mother. In fact, Sallie and Ella had already been married, had children, both of their husbands had passed away, and as far as I know they were both living in Philadelphia. Sallie's husband was Harry Painter, and Ella's husband was _____ Hoffer.

I do not know of a younger son named Harry, have never heard of one. Elva Hendricks married a man named Bill Moore who still lives in the Tampa area. Jack and I plan to try to see him sometime, because Jack knew him well. Ceil"

From Ceil:
"Yes, that sounds right. By 1910 Sally and Ella were already out on their own. I have a lot of pictures of Elva, and she and Charles were Aaron's children from a previous marriage. Aaron's last name was Hendricks, at least that's the way it's spelled on the envelopes that I have from letters Sallie sent to her mother. In fact, Sallie and Ella had already been married, had children, both of their husbands had passed away, and as far as I know they were both living in Philadelphia. Sallie's husband was Harry Painter, and Ella's husband was ____Hoffer.

I do not know of a younger son named Harry, have never heard of one. Elva Hendricks married a man named Bill Moore who still lives in the Tampa area. Jack and I plan to try to see him sometime, because Jack knew him well. Ceil."

According to Ceil, Benjamin died young, and Annie Lester remarried Aaron Hendricks. Aaron and Annie are found living at 2235 Sixth Street, in the 1910 Pennsylvania Census for Philadelphia.
